

New Standards For Egg Selling Are Announced

Requirements for Various Grades Listed by Commissioner Pyrk of Department of Agriculture and Markets—New Rules and Regulations Effective August 5.

New rules and regulations relative to the sale of eggs have been approved by Commissioner Berne A. Pyrk of the Department of Agriculture and Markets and will be effective August 5. The new regulations "Grade Unclassified" is eliminated and the grade known as "Nearby Fancy" is designated as "Fancy".

Under the rules which will be effective August 5, the grades of eggs are as follows: "Fancy Grade", "Grade A", "Grade B", and "Grade C". Under the regulations which have been in effect a great many retailers sold eggs with the designation "Grade Unclassified" and failed to grade so as to show the exact quality and grade. It was for this reason that the change eliminating the unclassified grade was decided upon by Commissioner Pyrk.

Definition of "Fresh"

Under the rules effective August 5, it is provided that the term "fresh" may be applied in addition to the grade designation to any lot of "Fancy" or "Grade A" eggs which are free from objectionable odor or flavor and not over 30 days old. Neither the term "fresh" or any other term of similar import may be applied in a brand name or otherwise to any lot of eggs below the requirements of Grade A or which are more than 30 days old. The new regulations also require that eggs reserved by treating the shell with oil or any other substance may be sold under the various grades, but offered for sale or sold as "fresh" must be designated as "shell treated" in addition to the grade designation.

Under the new rules it is provided that the retailer may purchase eggs which are not candied and candle himself before selling. It is required that any person selling eggs other than of his own production as a retailer shall furnish to the retailer an invoice specifying the grade according to the New York retail grades. If the eggs have not been candied there must be a notice on the invoice stating: "These eggs have not been candied." Before eggs are they must either be candied and graded or sold under the designation "Grade C".

In case eggs have been in cold storage for more than 30 days without the state the invoice must in addition designate them as "old stock" or "refrigerated". The following are requirements as to size: "Large," 24 ounces to the dozen; "medium size," 20 1/2 ounces to the dozen; "small," less than 14 ounces to the dozen.

Under the regulations which the commissioner has just signed four grades are established, as follows: "Fancy grade"—Eggs uniform in size; shell clean and sound; air-cell 1/2 inch in depth or less, localized and regular; yolk not more than 1/2 inch visible; white firm and clear; no visible development of the germ. (Individual eggs of the quality of U. S. Extras meet this grade.)

Grade B—Eggs uniform in size; shell clean and sound; air-cell 3/4 inch in depth or less, localized, may be slightly tremulous; yolk may be visible and plainly visible. (Individual eggs of the quality of U. S. Standards meet this grade.)

Grade C—Eggs which have been candied and found edible but not meeting the requirements for Fancy grade, Grade A or Grade B, or other eggs which have not been candied. (Individual eggs of the quality of U. S. Grades, U. S. Standard Dishes, U. S. Trade Dishes and U. S. Checks or Cracks meet this grade.)

(The foregoing grades and standards are based on the U. S. Standards of Quality for Individual Eggs, promulgated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

Not more than two eggs to a dozen may be below the requirements for the specific grade, providing they meet the requirements of the next lowest grade.

Any person selling eggs to a consumer other than of his own production must notify the person purchasing of the exact grade of the eggs. A placard showing the grade must be exhibited among or closely adjacent to them.

Expect Crisis In French Cabinet

American Government's Reply to Request for Postponement of Maturity Date on War Debt Gives No Hope for Favorable Decision.

Paris, June 29 (AP).—French politicians believe a cabinet crisis will be the probable aftermath of the note to Washington asking for postponement beyond August 1 of the maturity date on the surplus war stocks debt of $400,000,000.

American Secretary of State Stimson gave Ambassador Claudel no hope for a favorable decision on the French request yesterday for postponement of maturity of the French debt for American war stocks. It appeared today at a meeting of the cabinet which considered Ambassador Claudel's dispatch in reply.

The finance committee of the chamber, which was informed of the contents of the ambassador's reply, adjourned until Tuesday without taking action. It will then consider further the question of ratification of the Franco-American and Franco-British debt settlements.

It was difficult to predict the future but it was considered certain the premier would have his troubles when he took that answer back to the chamber of deputies. Even though his "armistice day cabinet" of last November should fail, the task of reorganizing the government would be left to Poincare, since even his enemies feel no one in France is so well qualified to see the liquidation of the war through to its end.

Meanwhile the deputies have had a chance to cool off somewhat after their explosion Thursday night which resulted in the premier's request for postponement of the maturity date. The fact that the whole list on the Bourse took a tumble yesterday was believed to have led to many sober second thoughts.

One possibility advanced by observers today was that Poincare would appear before the chamber and inform it he had handed its request to Washington and was turned down. He would then demand and obtain ratification of the debt accords.

There was always, too, the possibility that he would pass his problem to the president of the republic and leave him to untie the knot by presidential decree. He has made evident his belief that ratification of the accords with Great Britain and the United States is a prime and immediate necessity for France.

SANDINO SAYS AMERICA IS PROVOKING TROUBLE.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, June 29 (AP).—Accompanied by 25 armed men, Augustino Sandino, former Nicaraguan insurgent leader, was here today en route to exile at Merida, Yucatan. He arrived yesterday from Guatemala, having been given the government's permission to reside in Mexico.

Sandino professed ignorance as to where he would go next, or how long he would remain in Mexico. Despite his youth—he is but 33 years old—he appeared greatly enfeebled by ill health and the rigors of his campaign in Nicaragua.

In an interview in which he described his opposition to the established government in Nicaragua he declared "right now American imperialism is provoking trouble among Honduras, Salvador and Guatemala, striving to create an opportunity to step in and acquire islands for the establishment of a new naval base."

Insurgents Will Fight.

Mexico City, June 29 (AP).—Dispatches to Mexico City newspapers from Vera Cruz said Augustino Sandino, on his arrival from Guatemala yesterday, addressing a large crowd in the street from the balcony of his hotel, told them he had left a General Estrada in charge of his men in Nicaragua and that they would continue to fight while he himself sought recognition for their cause in other countries.

MRS. HARRISON INHERITS HER BROTHER'S ESTATE.

(Special to The Freeman.)

New York, June 28.—Mrs. Jenny Seaver Harrison, widow of Birge Harrison of Woodstock, N. Y., is the sole beneficiary of the estate left by her brother, the late Alexander Madison Harrison, according to the report of the New York State Transfer Tax Department here today. She receives $139,221.

Mr. Harrison died September 23, 1928, leaving no will. His estate was appraised today at $191,158 gross, net value $180,221. The bulk of this, $156,301, was in stocks and bonds. Malcolm W. Clephane is administrator.

QUEEN MARIE GIVES BIRTH TO THIRD SON.

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, June 29 (AP).—Queen Marie of Yugoslavia gave birth to a third son Friday at 11:49 p. m. at the summer palace at Bled. Her mother, Queen Marie of Rumania, was at her bedside. Mother and son are doing well. Announcement of the birth caused great rejoicing in the capital, where residents were particularly elated that it occurred on Saint Vitus' day, the country's national holiday. Yesterday was also the anniversary of Yugoslavia's victory at Kosova, the day from which the existence of the United Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes dates.

Pageant Parade Plans Complete

House Companies, Bands, Merchants' Floats, Baby Carriages and Boxing Ring in Parade on Monday—The Line of March.

Firemen's Exposition tents are now erected and workmen are constructing the many booths for the various merchants and manufacturers of this vicinity who will demonstrate and exhibit their various commodities.

One of the most unique booths at the exposition will be that of Ulster County Ice and Coal Corporation. They are featuring in this demonstration the various uses and advantages of ice and the exhibit will be changed nightly. They are featuring their industry as "Kingston's Newest Baby." They are taking a leading part in the parade, entering several of their largest trucks, not only from Kingston, but from Catskill as well and have engaged a band to lead their division.

One hundred and three beautifully decorated baby carriages will be in the big parade on Monday night, July 1. The majority of these baby carriages are now on display and in them will ride Ulster county's most perfect babies, with proud mama or papa pushing them. Designs of every kind have been entered, consisting of airplanes, boats, flower baskets, gondolas, Japanese palanquins, and a boxing ring in which will ride one of Kingston's fighters.

American Legion Drum Corps, Cordts Hose Company Band, Excelsior Hose Company Drum Corps, Excelsior Hose Company Band, Kimball Hose Company Band of Ellenville will form the musical unit. The following hose companies will be in the line of march: Cornell, Rescue, Union, Twaitskill, Rapids, Wiltwyck, Cordts, Weiner, Centrals, Excelsior, Port Ewen Fire Department with equipment and Eddyville Fire Department with equipment.

Chief Joseph L. Murphy and members of the paid fire department will head the parade.

The line of march for the first division, which will consist of the fire departments, musical organizations and merchants' floats, will move from Excelsior Hose Company on Hurley avenue, to Washington avenue, to North Front street, to Wall street, to corner of John street, baby floats enter and proceed to Main street, to Clinton avenue, to Albany avenue, to Broadway, to Strand, to Hasbrouck avenue, to Ferry street, up Broadway to Albany avenue, to Clinton avenue, to Main street, to Fair street, to John street, to Wall street, and then to the Exposition grounds, where the baby pageant will be welcomed.

Wheeler Is Held For Grand Jury

Charged With Failure to Support His Five-Year-Old Child, Bail Fixed at $500—Other Cases Before Judge Shufeldt in Police Court.

James Wheeler of 76 Crown street was arrested this morning by Sergeant Simpson on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Wheeler charging her husband with failure to provide for the support of their five-year-old child. Later in the morning Wheeler was arraigned before Judge Shufeldt in police court who informed him that the case could not be decided in police court but had to be considered by the grand jury, and if an indictment was found the case would be tried in county court.

Wheeler waived the preliminary examination in police court and was held to await the action of the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $500.

John Martin, 68, arrested Friday by Officer Boss who charged Martin with public intoxication on lower Broadway, pleaded not guilty and the hearing was adjourned to Monday. Martin informed Judge Shufeldt that all he had to drink was three glasses of beer and that a man could not get drunk on that amount of beer.

Sherwood Bean of Bradenton, Florida, forfeited $5 cash bail for failure to appear and answer to a charge of passing the red light at the Rondout Creek Bridge.

Harry Schilder of New York city, forfeited $5 cash bail for failure to answer to a charge of passing a traffic signal set against him.

Raymond Libolt of 17 Apple street was fined $2 for parking in the restricted area on Fair street.

Margaret Embree of New York city was fined $5 for parking her car in front of a fire hydrant on North Front street.

Charles Gilbert, arrested for loitering in doorways on Fair street Friday night, was given a suspended sentence of ten days in jail. He said he had a job awaiting him near Kerhonkson.

DR. AND MRS. PUTNAM CADDY GOING TO WISCONSIN.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Putnam Caddy will spend their vacation at Superior, Wisconsin, at the manse of the First Presbyterian Church there. This was the first church that Dr. Caddy had charge of and has grown from a small church to a membership of 1,499, with an assistant pastor, secretary, etc. On invitation of the people of his old charge, Dr. and Mrs. Caddy are spending their vacation in the large and delightful manse there. They expect to be out of town seven weeks.

Three Farm Board Members Named

President Hoover Designates Three of the Eight Men Who Will Handle Agricultural Problem—Much Speculation Over Personnel of Members to Be Appointed.

Washington, June 29 (AP).—The designation by President Hoover of three of the eight men he will name for membership on the federal farm board left agricultural leaders speculating today on the question who will be appointed from the great middle western farming region to represent principally the wheat interests.

Announcement of the member, or members, to represent this commodity has been awaited with the keenest interest, mainly because wheat is regarded as the commodity in greatest need of immediate application of the stabilization contemplated by the act under which the board will function.

The first three members announced come from the "border states," agriculturally speaking—of Oklahoma, Kentucky and Missouri. One of them, James C. Sone, of Lexington, represents the tobacco growing industry; another, C. B. Denman, of Farmington, Missouri, is identified with live stock, and the third, Carl Williams, of Oklahoma City, for years has been identified with the American Cotton Growers' Exchange.

Williams, however, also has had a variety of experience with wheat associations and cooperative marketing organizations, and some leaders felt that his appointment was not intended so much to give cotton a representative on the board as to put on a man of general interest. If this view is correct, an out-and-out cotton man still is to be named, and there have been reports that the president has in mind a Georgian for this purpose.

Banker For Rice Growers.

It has been supposed in authoritative quarters at the capitol that rice would have a representative in the appointment of Arthur P. Knapp of Lake Charles, Louisiana, a banker who has had experience in financing the exportation of that commodity.

If Mr. Hoover should name both Knapp and a Georgia cotton man, this would leave only two places to go to the middle western wheat, corn and dairy belt, since it has been assumed that the eighth place will go to Alexander Legge, president of the International Harvester Company, whose appointment is intended to satisfy requests that an "outstanding business man" be placed on the board.

Charles C. Teague of the California Citrus League, whom the president is understood to have wanted on the board, has declined.

Most of the farm leaders who have been watching the evolution of the board profess to feel certain that one and perhaps two members will be appointed from the section embracing North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa and Wisconsin. Two members from this territory would give a majority of the most important basic farm commodities representation.

Close Scrutiny by Senate Certain.

Whatever the personnel of the completed board proves to be—and President Hoover expects it to be organized by August—the members will be subjected to the closest scrutiny by the Senate agriculture committee when their nominations are submitted to the Senate in August for confirmation. Extensive hearings on the appointments are contemplated, and some members of the committee already have asked Chairman McNary not to begin these until all can be present, representing, as they do, every great farm commodity except the citrus industry.

ACCUSE DIPLOMATS OF TRAFFIC LAW VIOLATIONS

Washington, June 29 (AP).—Thirty-seven traffic law violations, including that of driving while intoxicated, have been recorded against members of the diplomatic corps by Washington police in the last thirteen years.

A list of the names, including a number apparently misspelled and several of ambassadorial or ministerial rank, is presented in a report to the senate submitted by Major Henry G. Pratt, police superintendent, in response to the resolution of inquiry by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas.

None of those listed was subject to arrest, all having the immunity of accredited members of diplomatic missions, Major Pratt explained, and their specific offenses were not given. Instead, they were grouped together merely as having been stopped and warned by policemen for violations of the traffic regulations.

Ten of the thirty-seven were halted for these various offenses this year, while thirteen were on the list for 1928, as compared with three or four each in the preceding years and only one in 1917, the first year considered in the report.

KUNST'S AUTO KNOCKED DOWN BOY ON BICYCLE

Bernard Kunst of 59 East Strand reported to the police Friday afternoon that while driving on Broadway in his car he turned into Liberty street to avoid hitting Durand Snyder, 14, of 153 Prospect street who was riding a bicycle. As his car turned into Liberty street it skidded and the rear of the car struck the bicycle, upsetting it. He stated that the boy was not hurt.

Hawks Makes 3 New Records

Aviator Establishes Records in Flying to Pacific Coast, in Returning to Roosevelt Field and in Coast-to-Coast Round Trip Flight.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., June 29 (AP).—His weariness forgotten in the joy of success, Captain Frank M. Hawks completed a non-stop flight from Los Angeles at 1:16:05 a. m. eastern daylight time today, establishing a one-stop round trip coast-to-coast record of 35 hours 16 minutes, 48 seconds flying time.

Spectators of his arrival were momentarily alarmed when in landing his plane dashed across the field and struck a fence, damaging its undercarriage and fuselage. Hawks was uninjured, and climbed out of the plane to be cheered by a crowd of admirers. He was greeted with a kiss by his wife.

He had taken off from Roosevelt Field on Thursday in an attempt to establish three records. He succeeded in each case. He made the flight to the Pacific coast in 19 hours, 10 minutes, and 32 seconds, breaking the record of 24 hours and 51 minutes established by the late Captain C. B. D. Collier and Harry Tucker. Although he had planned to remain in Los Angeles only long enough to refuel, he was detained seven hours and fourteen minutes by needed repairs to the plane's stabilizer and carburetor.

Broke His Own Record

Taking off from Los Angeles at 3:37:47 a. m. (Pacific time) yesterday morning, he brought his plane down again on Roosevelt Field 17 hours, 38 minutes and 16 seconds later to break the record of 18 hours, 21 minutes and 59 seconds he established last year.

He had hoped to make the round trip in 35 hours of actual flying but was delayed on the west-coast trip by head winds. His elapsed time for the round trip was 44 hours and 48 seconds.

Suffered No Ill Effects

He was completely deaf when he emerged from the open cockpit of his plane and looked haggard. He said he had suffered no ill effects from the trip, but he departed immediately for his home in New York to spend the rest of the night in sleep.

In appearance, however, he was immaculate. He made the round trip flight in white trousers and a blue coat and even the trousers appeared to have suffered no ill effects from the arduous voyage.

It was estimated that the route he followed was 2,800 miles one way, which would give him an estimated speed for the round trip of slightly more than 152 miles an hour. The west to east trip has always been made in less time than the westward.

Charge McGrail Caused Accident

Rosendale Man Charged With Driving Car of Abram Mullinax in Which William Doran Was Hurt.

Thomas McGrail of Rosendale was picked up Friday charged with being the man who was driving the car of Abram Mullinax of Tilton at the time it met with an accident early Friday morning in Rosendale village. At that time the car left the roadway and turned over in a culvert, injuring William Doran of Binnewater and practically demolishing the Durant car.

Following the accident the driver disappeared and people who responded to a call for help assisted Doran, who was unconscious, from the car. Deputy Sheriff Nicholas Kuerstine conducted an investigation and later arrested McGrail as the driver of the car.

McGrail was brought to the county jail and held pending the outcome of Doran's injuries. He was to be arraigned later today before Police Justice McCardie at Rosendale and probably charged with leaving the scene of an accident in which a person was injured. McGrail escaped with slight cuts and bruises and Doran's injuries are not of a serious nature.

NAVAL POWERS TO MAKE EXTENSIVE PREPARATIONS.

London, June 29 (AP).—A damper has been thrown on expectations of an immediate conference of the naval powers on disarmament and naval reduction.

Some quarters had been led to believe that the promptness of Ambassador Dawes, Premier Ramsay MacDonald and Ambassador Hugh S. Gibson in initiating conversations on the subject implied an early call for a meeting of the nations.

Both in news dispatches from Washington and in a speech last night by Premier MacDonald, however, there were indications that extensive preparation would be undertaken before a call finally is issued for a conference.

The Washington dispatches inferred an administration view that the United States would not be party to an immediate conference on naval disarmament, begun without necessary preliminary work. The dispatches recalled the Geneva disarmament conference in 1927, the failure of which sometimes has been attributed to incomplete preparation.

The premier said that despite constant work in the direction of peace "we are not going into a peace conference without such preliminary preparation as will avoid the failure of 1927."

Sorrow, Anxiety Are Stowaways in Three Musketeers

Martin Jensen and Wife Keeping From William Ulbrich Details of Tragedy which Befell Their Friendly Flying Rivals—Ulbrich Revealed in Romance.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., June 29 (AP).—Sorrow and anxiety were unwelcome stowaways in the monoplane, Three Musketeers, as it circled over Long Island today striving for a new endurance flight record.

Snatches of radio conversation between the plane and the field station indicated that Martin Jensen and his wife, Marguerite, were in a conspiracy of kindness to keep from William Ulbrich, third member of the crew, details of the tragedy which befell their friendly rivals, Viola Gentry, "the flying cashier", and Jack Ashcraft.

Miss Gentry, in Nassau County Hospital, with her chances for recovery doubtful, frequently called for Ulbrich, as she did when she was lifted from the wreck of her plane yesterday.

Ulbrich, knowing that Miss Gentry had been injured, but not how seriously, kept grimly on with the grind upon which he and the Jensens embarked at 7:32:02 Wednesday night in their effort to better the record of 172 1/2 hours set by the Fort Worth in May.

The crash of Miss Gentry's plane, The Answer, in which her co-pilot, Ashcraft, was killed, near Old Westbury, N. Y., yesterday, revealed that a stronger sentiment than the comradeship of the air existed between Ulbrich and Miss Gentry.

As she was lifted out of the wreckage she murmured: "Just got a tough break, that's all. Tell Bill Ulbrich. Oh, Bill, Bill."

Ulbrich, when he missed seeing the Gentry plane as the fog thinned, got into communication with the field.

"What happened to Viola?" he demanded. "Now, you birds give me the details. Don't try to hold out on me."

But Jensen called him from the microphone and Mrs. Jensen warned field operator not to give Ulbrich the details. He was told only that Miss Gentry had suffered a broken arm.

Extent of Miss Gentry's injuries. Doctors said Miss Gentry had suffered a severe fracture of the skull, fracture of one arm in two places and one fracture in the other. She also was suffering from serious nervous shock, numerous cuts and bruises and probably internal injuries.

Empty gasoline tanks and two notes dropped indicated that Miss Gentry and Ashcraft had been wrecked when they tried to make a forced landing in the fog after failure of their fuel supply. They took off Thursday night at 8:49 with 116 gallons of fuel. They expected to make contact with a refueling plane at 8 a. m. yesterday. Their gasoline was exhausted two hours before.

Three refueling operations, two of them dangerous feats over the ocean, kept the Three Musketeers in the air through its third night. The last supply of 129 gallons was poured from the supply ship piloted by Emil Burgh after dark. Food and tools with which to fasten the cabin roof which had been torn loose by the high wind also were lowered to the plane.

BUSINESS AND PLEASURE PROGRAMS FOR LINDBERGH'S

St. Louis, Mo., June 29 (AP).—Entertained by the backers who first believed the obscure National Guardsman could fly from New York to Paris, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride today faced a program of business and of informal pleasure. They intended taking off for Kansas City on their leisurely western flight late this afternoon of Sunday morning.

While Lindbergh yesterday conferred with Transcontinental Air Transport officials and inspected the facilities of the line, Mrs. Lindbergh was entertained privately by Mrs. Harry Hall Knight, Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh were guests at a small dinner party given by Major William B. Robertson, a backer of the New York-to-Paris flight and the colonel's old air mail boss.

Farming in New York State

(By The Associated Press.)

Albany, N. Y., June 29 (AP).—Warnings of bacterial canker of tomatoes, which frequently kills practically all plants in a field before the fruit can ripen, have been issued by the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva.

The canker has been reported in extensive plantings in Western New York, particularly in Erie and Niagara counties, and has led to the issuance of an account of the disease and its control by Dr. L. K. Jones, former plant disease specialist, and C. S. Pederson, assistant bacteriologist at the station.

"The early signs of bacterial canker," the report states, "are wilting, rolling and browning of the leaves on one side, while pale yellowish streaks may extend up the stem on the affected side of the plant and the stems may crack open in these streaked areas."

While there has been little done on the control of bacterial canker, the following precautions should be observed: Care should be taken to select seed from healthy plants only. Tomato refuse should be plowed under or completely destroyed as the organisms may live over winter in the refuse. Tomatoes should not be grown on the same land oftener than once in three or four years. Finally, seed should be treated with corrosive sublimate to kill any disease organisms that may be present on the seed.

"It is rather late, but not too late," warns the New York State Dairyman's League, "to make sure of having a green feed supply for cows late in the summer. Every dairyman will need such feed if his cows are to be kept at maximum production. If not done yet, soy beans, millet and buckwheat should be sown now."

"And, it is pretty near time for early haying. Remember it is the early cut hay that is best. Ripe, fibrous, woody hay is not nearly so beneficial to the cows as that which is cut as early as good curing weather will permit."

A shortage of water supply for hens causes a decrease in the number and size of eggs, according to poultry experts at the Pennsylvania State College. Chickens, they add, do not like ice cold water and will drink more if the chill is removed. Heated drinking fountains usually are good investments.

Field mice may be controlled by placing poisoned bait where it is likely to be picked up. Use of poisoned wheat, placed in runways and tunnels or in a line on the surface, according to the type of mouse found in the field, is advocated by the Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture.

QUEEN ELIZABETH IS EXPERT WITH TROWEL

Brussels, June 29 (AP).—Elizabeth, the talented queen of Belgium, long a Doctor of Medicine and a trained nurse, has now qualified as a stone mason.

Dedicatory ceremonies of the new St. Peter's Hospital, Brussels, gave Queen Elizabeth the chance to display her craftsmanship. She was grasping the trowel to lay the cornerstone when the official presiding whispered: "With your permission, majesty, I will show how to do it."

But the queen disconcerted this gentleman by bursting into a laugh, in which her immediate entourage joined.

"That is not necessary," she responded. "For a long time now I have been busy in the building industry, and have got good experience. You may rest assured that I'll do my work properly."

And with such expertness did the queen wield her trowel and shape her mortar that the foreman of construction congratulated her warmly. "None of my skilled masons could have done better," the foreman said.

Humanity Set Apart
Every now and again I meet up with a "lonely" man or woman, who is such because, through some idiosyncrasy of creation, he or she is different from the common run of us. It is rather sad, because there appears to be no help for it. Such folks are like moths confined in a chest of cotton garments.—Portland Oregonian.

Defines Duty of Lutheran Church

Urged to Embark Upon Wider Field of Social Reformation Than Ever Before—Must Be Energetic in Cause of Temperance.

Copenhagen, June 29.—The Lutheran Church which has from its beginning regarded the protection of the helpless and oppressed as its most solemn duty, was urged in its World Convention here today, to dedicate itself towards a greater task in fighting the evils which beset the poor and to embark upon a wider field of social reformation than ever before.

This appeal was voiced by the Rev. J. Maroni, Dean of Oslo, Norway, in pointing out what he conceived to be the privilege and duty of the Lutheran Church to combat the social crisis throughout the world.

"No man can be blind to the fact that society of today is in a very unhealthy condition and confronts us with most difficult problems," the dean declared. "There are evils of poverty and unemployment, house shortage, the war, class warfare, and mammonism. Men are striving with feverish zeal to find remedies for these ills."

"We cannot leave these difficulties to be settled by politicians, for they are the representatives of but one party, and the church must guard against becoming the servant of a single party."

Dean Maroni appealed to the Lutherans to maintain justice and right, charity and unselfishness, by attacking public and social sins and endeavoring to speed the coming of the time when all people will live together in peace and as Christians should.

Evils Which Church Must Attack.

Summoning the church to prevent the corruption of the people, he declared that since prevention is better than cure, the church must be always most energetic in the cause of temperance. "It must take up," said he, "the fight against all the pitfalls that are set to catch the feet of the young. It must protect against slackness with regard to the sacredness of marriage. It must attack the selfish code of business and commerce, and stop the brazen, shame-has advertisement of sin of every kind. It is the duty of the church not merely to follow trend and suffering but to create a Christian opinion with regard to equality, legislation and social responsibility.

"The life of the Christian is the life of the world and is often the only one that is read," he warned the hundreds of delegates in the convention.

No Cooperation With Socialism.

Lutheran principles have exercised a far-reaching influence on the Christian social movement in France, the Rev. Louis Appia, ecclesiastical inspector of the Lutheran Church in Paris, told the delegates. He pointed out, however, that in France the Lutherans are a minority and that their social work could only yield results by cooperation with other evangelical denominations.

Leaders of the social movement, he said, had tried to work in cooperation with the Socialists, but had been compelled to abandon the effort, as they discovered that materialist socialism was not concerned with the salvation of souls, but only with well-being, comfort, equality and justice.

The Rev. Mr. Appia enumerated many of the benevolent and philanthropic institutions established by the Lutherans in Paris, notably the Society of Friends of the Poor, the Blue Cross societies and the Band of Hope.

In reviewing the history of the social work of the French Lutherans, he paid glowing tribute to Jean Frederic Oberlin, the reformer of Ban de la Roche in the Vosges, who transformed a vast parish from a condition of great misery to one of religious and social advancement. He praised also the work achieved in Paris in the middle of the last century by Pastor Louis Meyer, who organized a great religious charitable and educational effort in the poorest parts of Paris.

These two inspired Tommy Fallot, manufacturer and pastor in Paris, to found the French League for the Reform of Public Morality.

Babylon Large City

Many expeditions have been sent out to excavate the ancient city of Babylon—the first in 1764—but it was not until after the real work of Deutsche Orient Gesellschaft, begun in 1890, that the outer wall was traceable. From this time they were able to determine that the city of Babylon covered 12 square miles.

Sweaters, the Mannish Blouse and Circular Cut Tweed Skirts Approved at French Resort

POOL REMAINS ON THE MID-SUMMER DRESS PROGRAM.

New York—In the not so long ago, the mention of woolen clothes or about Independence Day would have been considered as a subject wide of the mark. Nowadays even go in for woolen clothes, just as they did and do for felt hats, the seasonal notwithstanding. From Deauville and Biarritz, as well as Tignes and other fashionable resorts come word of fine wooleens of tweed, of tweed, to say nothing of Shetlands and a score of novelty knitted fabrics all proving that wool, cotton and silk are interchangeable in the summer wardrobe.

From Deauville comes the assurance that chocolate brown is the outstanding choice in wool coats, such hats being worn with yellow or beige. The combination of tomato red with brown, already reported promises to grow in favor and from every point of the compass comes reports that browns are the vogue which is interesting now and important to those whose interest lies ahead.

Three inches below the knee is the prescribed skirt length at Deauville, this referring of course to sports and resort clothes that no matter how elaborated may be designated as sports. Late afternoon and evening frocks are considerably longer.

The fun collared coat has survived the heat of several summers, French designers are centering their creative attentions on fur trimmed suits for resort wear, several such having been seen at Deauville. For all evening wraps many of them quite abbreviated are a style repeated this season. The fur-trimmed suit may however be regarded as something as new as anything one may find in fashionable quarters.

Health for Sports Jewelry and Old-Fashioned Pieces for Dress.

New York—Jewelry reminiscent of grandmother's day seems to be gaining the attention of specialists looking abroad for the best looking wetties. Wide bracelets are among the mentioned, necklaces are long and corals still much in evidence. Galath jewelry is still in vogue with sports clothes, the tones of course selected with the view of accentuating the color of the costume.

strands of twisted seed pearls, they corals or turquoise are cited as a fascinating note. Wide bracelets and long necklaces are also underscored. The fashion of wearing bracelets over the wrinkled glove which has been revived is worth remembering, while of course the sleeveless dress provides every excuse for effecting bracelets of several sorts. Naturally the selection of jewelry to complete a sports ensemble should be from simple lines, including metal and galath.

In this season of prints of so many flower and leaf designs it is refreshing to come upon well defined stripes in striking tones or in plaids, broken or otherwise. Checks are also generally approved and the gingham ensemble is by no means a Cinderella among more costly ensembles. Brown and white gingham appears to be the favorite. Certain old-fashioned printed calicos score for resort wear also.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Floyd Dell, author, has written "The New Masses," a radical monthly, withdrawing as a contributing editor. And Mike Gold, the editor, has written in the magazine accusing Dell of being another victim of American prosperity, of being too busy as a dress-suit author to do such things as help in Sacco demonstrations.

London—King Alfonso has found a sport compared with which bullfighting is tame. It is motorcycle racing. He thinks it is the most thrilling he ever has seen.

New York—Billie Burke is to return to the stage under the management of her husband, Florenz Ziegfeld, and then go into the talkies.

Washington—Herbert Hoover Jr., has obtained a license to operate a short-wave portable research radio station in the Pacific coast district.

West Orange, N. J.—Thomas A. Edison has declined to relinquish to the state of Ohio the ownership of his birthplace at Milan in that state, but is willing to grant the state a protectorate over it.

New York—Casey Jones has lost a green vest. Casey is quite a flier himself and the vest contains the autograph of nearly everybody that counts in aviation.

Philadelphia—If possible Henry Ford would like all his employees to be between 35 and 60. He gives his views in the Ladies' Home Journal. It is absolutely necessary, he writes, to have a solid framework of older and more experienced men.

New York—Frieda Hempel, singer, has returned from abroad with the news that her gowns attracted much favorable comment in Paris. Many people asked where she got them. She replied: "In America."

New York—For a privately minted $5 gold piece issued in California in 1849 the sum of $7,500 has been paid at auction. The purchaser was a dealer acting for an unnamed collector.

New York—A super-parent is to take care of a divorced couple's son. Justice Wasservogel has appointed Dr. Israel L. Feinberg to supervise the bringing up of seven-year-old Alfred Stamm, whose father is a wealthy merchant. The doctor will supervise the work of governess and nurse, choose toys and clothing, etc., being responsible only to the court.

For the Love of a Lady

by Jeffery Farnol

SYNOPSIS: Helen Dacey, a beautiful young girl, is the daughter of a wealthy man. She is in love with a young man who is a member of the aristocracy. The story follows their lives and the challenges they face.

Chapter I
 ANOTHER MEETING

MY lady Helen, sitting up in bed, stretched wide her shapely arms and yawned, whereupon her maid, the buxom, black-eyed Betty, clasped her hands, rolling her eyes ecstatically.

"Such arms, ma'am. Such neck and shoulders! Such forms! And you so cruel set against matrimony!"

"Tush, silly wench!" quoth my lady, knitting black brows and yet glancing down at her lovely self with a certain satisfaction none the less. "What o'clock is it?"

"Nigh upon eleven. . . . And oh, ma'am, such murderous news of the gentlemen, last night!"

Richard gazed from the Duchess' glorious eyes to Helen's proud chin. "Were they so outrageous drunk, Betty?"

"Well, my lady, 'twas that wild some, Sir Richard Guyford—whips his poor, young gentleman-son-in-law about the head and ears."

"And how didst learn of this, Betty?"

"Well, ma'am, every one's discussing 't. There's Mrs. Weatherby below stairs, as lives at The Gables, ma'am, and Sir John Parrot and his lady, and my lord Viscount Brocklehurst and Captain Despard all waiting to tell ye about it and setting in the garden with Madame."

"The visitors were grouped about Madame la Duchesse d'Estouteville, a book-nosed, sharp-chinned, formidable-looking lady, of very uncertain age, complexion too vividly red and white, but with glorious eyes, undimmed by years, of a wonderful blue, deep and dark."

As Helen approached the company rose, the ladies rushed delicately to kiss her, the gentlemen bowed, flattered her or handkerchiefed.

"And now," said the Duchess, "you find us sitting in solemn judgment upon a monster and a villain and consequently 'tis dying I am to meet him!"

"Him?" repeated Helen.

"Himself, my dear, and his name is Richard Guyford. These kindred friends, Helen, are come to warn us against the villain. For instance, Sir John Parrot is an authority on the monster—eh, Sir John?"

"True, madam!" quoth Sir John. "And also being a neighbor and a Justice of the Peace, I hold it my bounden duty to—um—to advise you against this—"

"Person!" suggested his lady, frowning.

"Meaning Sir Richard Guyford?" inquired Helen.

"The—ha—person in question, encourages poisoning! He harbors vagrants, permits rascally gypsies to camp on his lands and thus is viewed with much abhorrence by the neighboring gentry."

"But is he not also a highwayman?" inquired Helen; and met the persistent gaze of Captain Despard, who smiled slightly, shaking his head.

"And is he not forever drunk?" inquired Helen.

"And quarrels," piped the Viscount. "Now if a gentleman quarrels, he should like a gentleman—but this fellow! There's poor Julian laughing one moment and the next—this fellow thrashing him most vilely with a whip and a have been flagrant offenders. Parliament is setting a thoroughly bad example to the country, which in this matter needs most urgently a good example from its legislators."

"The use of obscene and profane language is shockingly widespread among the uneducated classes throughout Ireland, language that does not appear in the worst book that ever escaped censorship. Yet the very parliament that proposes a censorship of books refuses to put a ban on its own tongue."

"The coarseness and vulgarity of political discussion in the Free State is the world's eyes and ears have been flagrant offenders. Parliament is setting a thoroughly bad example to the country, which in this matter needs most urgently a good example from its legislators."

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, June 29.—The Rev. S. G. Dunneath of West Park, rector-in-charge of St. John's Church, gave an excellent sermon Sunday evening, taking his text from Romans 8:18.

The church school at St. John's Church meets at 9:30 Sunday morning. Evening prayer and sermon at 7:30 Sunday evening, daylight saving time. A cordial welcome to everyone.

Daniel Joseph of Jamaica, L. I., was a week-end guest of his mother, Mrs. Catherine Joseph.

Mrs. E. Thompson of Kingston was a week-end guest of Mrs. C. Dewey.

Mr. and Mrs. William Van DeMark and daughter, Miss Delbie Van DeMark and son, Wilbert, of Kingston, spent Sunday last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Christiana.

AROUND THE WORLD

Paris, June 29 (AP).—Thirty-one thousand children are being cared for by the Assistance Publique in France. The institution was founded to look after the children of girl mothers abandoned by their lovers but of late years foundlings and the offspring of people too poor to rear them properly have been accepted.

Quadraro, Italy (AP).—The project of draining the Pontine marshes to stamp out malaria has gotten under way. At the same time agricultural experts are engaged on a reclamation project to restore the swamp land to productivity.

Oxford, England (AP).—Modern poets suffer for lack of direct criticism, said John Massfield in giving a reading of his poems here. "What poets need is the dead cat thrown by a dissatisfied member of the audience," he explained.

London (AP).—A woman juror who took 45 minutes instead of the allotted half hour for luncheon was lectured by Mr. Justice Horridge and made to sit in a chair below the jury box, in full view of the crowded room.

Leipzig (AP).—A chorus of boys and men has been maintained at St. Thomas Church here from the days of Johann Sebastian Bach who was organist and choirmaster in the famous Protestant edifice from 1723 to 1750. The choir is especially expert in singing eight part choruses.

Church And School Notes

(By The Associated Press)
Albany, N. Y., June 29 (AP).—The Springfield Center Baptist Church recently observed its 125th anniversary. It was organized in 1804 by Elder W. B. Smith, with five members.

The General Electric Company, Schenectady, employs more than 4,400 college graduates from approximately 215 American universities, colleges and technical schools, and 300 graduates of educational institutions in 35 foreign countries, according to a recent survey conducted by officials of the company. Forty women employees of the company are university or college graduates.

The courses in which these employees obtained their degrees from various colleges included: Electrical engineering, 529; civil engineering, 71; chemical and ceramic, 132; metallurgical, mining and physics, 52; aeronautical, radio and marine, 12; general engineering, 142; scientific, 98; liberal arts, 27; business administration, law, and associated subjects, 178. The term "general engineering" includes administrative, agricultural, industrial and United States Naval Academy engineering.

The graduates are distributed among the various departments of the company as follows: District offices, 1,062; general office commercial departments, 349; general office commercial engineering departments, 197; engineering, drafting, apparatus works, 1,167; manufacturing apparatus works, 520; general engineering and Schenectady laboratories, 290; general manufacturing, 27; general accounting, 139; other general administrative departments, 66; merchandise department, 43; International General Electric Company, 179; incandescent lamp department, 333; and first test men at Schenectady and other plants, 449.

Seven universities and colleges are represented by more than 100 graduates from each as follows: Union College, 192; Purdue University, 174; Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 169; Cornell, 131; Pennsylvania State College, 113; Pratt Institute, 111; and Iowa State College, 102.

Graduates of colleges in foreign countries are listed as follows: Canada, 57; Germany, 46; Sweden, 33; England, 27; Switzerland, 21; Russia, 12; Scotland, 12; Norway, 11; and less than 10 each from Africa, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Bohemia, Brazil, Chile, China, Colombia, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Finland, France, Holland, Hungary, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Mexico, New Zealand, Panama, Persia, Poland, Turkey and Wales.

A museum training course lasting the equivalent of one school year will be offered next fall by the Buffalo Museum of Natural Sciences. A limited number of students will be accepted, the course being open only to college graduates or those who have had special academic training. The purpose of the course will be to train museum workers and directors.

PORT EWEN
Port Ewen, June 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Van Etten and sons of Pleasant Valley, N. Y., are guests of Mr. Van Etten's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Etten, on Broadway, Hope Lodge, No. 65, Knights of Pythias, will observe their memorial service Sunday evening, June 23, at the Reformed Church. The Rev. A. J. Coffey of Phoenixia will deliver the address. All members are requested to meet at the lodge rooms at 7 o'clock.

Esopous Council, No. 42, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, will meet Wednesday evening, July 3, at 8 o'clock. The deputy, Miss Haber, of Kingston will be present to install the newly elected officers.

Miss Ruth Wyckoff, who has been the guest of Mrs. Anna Eltinge on Broadway, has returned to her home in Brooklyn.

Miss Margaret Card, who is attending college at Albany, is enjoying her vacation at her home on Hamilton street.

Lucretia Rebekah Lodge will discontinue their meetings during July and August and expect to resume Thursday, September 12. Anyone wishing to pay their dues can leave them with the financial secretary, Mrs. Ernest Hutchings, on Broadway.

A woman is seen roaming the streets of this place every evening. Miss Marjorie Winchell, who has spent a week with Miss Dorothy Coons in Poughkeepsie, has returned to her home on Salem street, accompanied by Miss Coons.

It is hoped the assessors will take particular notice as they pass through this place of the condition of some property owners' lots and assess them accordingly. They have no respect for the people in this place and say if they want them to look differently let the neighbors clean up for them.

A great many people are seen standing on the side of the Erie road signalling automobiles for a ride. This week Wednesday a little boy eight years old who was staying with his grandmother while their was sickness in the family, wanted to go home and stood on the side of the road some distance from his grandmother's and signalled for a ride and was taken in, causing his grandmother annoyance and the trouble of following him trying to head him off.

Phoenixia Will Hold Celebration

One of the biggest celebrations ever held at Phoenixia will be staged there on July Fourth, when a varied program will be sponsored by the Phoenixia American Legion and M. P. Whitney Hose Company. Kingston Post, No. 110, American Legion, will send its drum corps to lead the parade.

The parade is to start at 10:30 a. m. At 2:30 p. m. there will be a drill followed at 3 o'clock by a baseball game. At 5 o'clock events consisting of a tug of war, sack race, three-legged race and the greased pig, will go on. A fireworks display will be set off at 9 p. m. after which there will be a dance at Shandegon Hall, Shandegon. A popular orchestra will furnish music.

It is estimated that one of the largest gatherings of people that ever visited Phoenixia will attend the event. Daylight saving time will be adhered to.

Snakes' Sight and Hearing
All snakes have good eyes, and some of the nocturnal species have very large ones, but the eyes have no lids and are not movable. No external ear is present, but a complicated internal apparatus exists, so that snakes hear well and are affected by musical sounds.

Honor to Francis Bacon's
Arthur Bestwick says, "Experimental science was born in 1215 with Roger Bacon, an English monk."

LEIBHARDT

The image shows a full page from a newspaper. At the top, there is a large headline "The Daily Cross Word Puzzle" with a small number "7" in the top right corner. Below the headline is a crossword puzzle grid with numbers 1 through 69. To the right of the grid is a list of clues for the puzzle, including "Across" and "Down" categories. Below the crossword puzzle is a section titled "Diphtheria Case Reported Here" with a sub-headline "Six Year Old Girl Stricken With Disease—Had Not Been Immunized With Toxin Antitoxin—Another Free Clinic Here Monday." The article describes a case of diphtheria in a six-year-old girl and mentions a free clinic. To the right of the article is a small section titled "Find Old Bear's Head Cut From Sandstone" with a sub-headline "Springfield, Mo.—Finding of a bear's head carved from sandstone on an Ozark farm near Warsaw, Mo., has attracted attention of archeologists." Below this is a small photograph of a bear's head. At the bottom of the page is a large advertisement for "THE LIFELESS ARM" by Froude & MacKinnon. The advertisement includes a large headline, a detailed story about a man whose arm was broken by a bicycle, a photograph of a man, and contact information for the chiropractors. The advertisement also includes a diagram of the human spine and a list of organs affected by nerve issues.

Exonerate Japan In Assassination

But Report on Investigation Into
Death of Defeated Chinese War
Lord Commander Garrison Officers and National Cabinet Crisis May Impeach.

Tokyo, June 29 (P).—There was every indication today that a sudden cabinet crisis, threatening the government of Baron Gichi Tanaka, has arisen. The trouble was understood to have had its origin in the report of the investigation into the death of Marshal Chang Tso-lin, defeated Chinese war lord, in Manchuria last June.

The leading native papers today freely asserted that the cabinet was tottering and that the Minseito, or Liberal opposition, was preparing to take over the reins of government. Official circles were evasive, averring that the reports "probably are exaggerated."

Publication of the findings of the investigators into the "Manchurian affair," or the assassination of Chang Tso-lin after his defeat in northern China, was scheduled for today but, according to good authority, has been postponed indefinitely due to the opposition to it of the Minister of War, General Hoshino Shirokawa.

The report exonerates Japan of blame for the assassination but censures severely certain officers in the Manchurian garrison for agreeing to temporary replacement of Japanese troops by Chinese troops on the occasion of Chang's scheduled arrival at Mukden without first consulting the home government.

$55,000 Swindle, Merchant Reports

Walton, N. Y., June 29 (P).—Frank Fulmer, a merchant of this village, notified the state police barracks at Sidney today he had been swindled out of $5,000 in cash and $50,000 in securities by two glib-tongued strangers. The men, he said, called on him a week ago, saying they were Frank Miska and Frank Fonzarero, of New York, and that they could put him in the way of large and quick profits if he would purchase quantity lots of varied merchandise from them as wholesalers.

Fulmer was so impressed by the opportunities described by the strangers that he placed an order for goods, giving them $5,000 in cash to bind the bargain and $50,000 in securities as evidence of good faith. The strangers immediately left town. Fulmer enlisted the aid of the State Troopers after his suspicions were aroused.

Clarke Brothers, In Bankruptcy

New York, June 29 (P).—Clarke Brothers, bankers, posted a sign on the door of their offices in Nassau street today announcing they had applied to the Federal courts for the appointment of a receiver. The notice stated that the firm's obligations may be met in full if judicious handling of the concern's assets is permitted by the creditors.

Joseph A. Broderick, state superintendent of banks, said the Clarke bank does not come under the supervision of the department. This is true of a number of other large downtown banks.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was later filed.

In an affidavit signed by James Rae Clarke it was stated "we have assets exceeding $5,000,000 if liquidated in the ordinary course of business."

The Irving Trust Company was named receiver.

MOVIE ACTRESS INJURED IN MOTORING ACCIDENT

Los Angeles, June 29 (P).—The condition of Gladys Brockwell, motion picture actress, was reported by physicians today as "extremely critical."

Miss Brockwell and Thomas Stanley Brennan, Los Angeles advertising man, were seriously injured when their motor car plunged over a 75-foot embankment at Calabasas, Cal., Thursday night. Brennan was reported resting easily.

A blood transfusion was resorted to yesterday in an effort to save Miss Brockwell's life.

PART OF RETAINING WALL ON DELAWARE AVENUE DOWN

During Friday night about 25 feet of the stone retaining wall built along the Delaware avenue hill leading down into Ponckhockie was washed out. Superintendent Mills of the board of public works will start work Monday repairing the damage to the wall.

Aviation News Today in Brief

(By the Associated Press.)

The world of aviation was thrilled today with the news of the rescue of Major Ramon Franco, noted Spanish flier, and his three companions, who were rescued off the Azores after hope had almost been abandoned for nearly a week.

Captain Frank M. Hawks was the proud holder of a one-stop round trip coast-to-coast record of 36 hours, 15 minutes and 43 seconds, actual flying time. He landed at Roosevelt Field, N. Y., in the moonlight early today.

Three planes were still in the air in different sections of the country in attempts on the re-fueling endurance record. In Minneapolis the monoplane "Miss Minneapolis" was approaching the record of 17 1/2 hours. It will reach it Sunday afternoon.

In Cleveland, Roy Mitchell and Byron Newcomb were going strong after their start yesterday.

Over the Long Island flying fields the plane "Three Musketeers" passed its 60th hour in the air this morning.

MORAN NIGHT SCHOOL SUMMER SCHEDULE

The management of the Moran Business School, Fair and Main streets, announces that during July and August it will conduct night school every Tuesday night, holding one session a week.

In former years it has been the practice of the Moran School to close night sessions at the end of June. Recently several night students expressed the desire to continue their advancement throughout the summer. Realizing that it would be greatly to the advantage of all students to keep in touch with their studies uninterruptedly, the management is cooperating to the fullest possible extent. These sessions are open also to new students who wish to begin courses at this time.

The first night sessions under the summer schedule will be held on Tuesday, July 2. Students may enter for day sessions on Monday, July 1, or on any school day thereafter. Electric fans keep the rooms cool and comfortable.

PRIMA DONNA FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Chicago, June 29 (P).—Edith Mason, prima donna of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, filed suit in circuit court yesterday to divorce Giorgio Polacco, director of the company. The bill, which was ordered suppressed, was filed just one day before their tenth wedding anniversary.

Miss Mason refused to comment. Judge Harry M. Fisher, in whose court the bill was filed, said he did not know the contents of the bill, nor over the name of the attorney representing the soprano.

Polacco is 54 years old, and Miss Mason 36. Their only child, Grace Edith, was born in the summer of 1925, with Mrs. Arthur Meeker acting as godmother. When the child was still an infant Polacco was reported to have insured his life for $500,000 with the daughter as beneficiary.

Polacco is reported at sea en route from Italy to New York.

The divorce was believed asked on technical grounds.

PROMINENT IRISH LABOR LEADER DEAD

New York, June 29 (P).—John Lawlor, prominent Irish labor leader and former world's champion handball player, died in Dublin last Wednesday, friends here were advised today. He was 73 years old.

He came to America in 1889 to play Phil Casey, trainer of John L. Sullivan, for the handball championship, and lost his title. Following his defeat he lived in this country for three years. Besides his widow and son he is survived by two brothers, John and Dan Lawlor, of Ballston Spa, N. Y.

WEALTHY SQUASH RAISERS MAY OFFER BIG PRIZE

Hyde Park, N. Y., June 29 (P).—Press reports from Albany describing the squash raising activities of Governor Roosevelt and Henry Morgenthau, Jr., have aroused interest in this, their home town. J. C. Penney, chain store operator, desires the Governor and Mr. Morgenthau join with him in creating a big caliber-squash prize for Dutchess county. Penney's choice for contest judge is Senator J. Griswold Webb, chairman of the State Aviation Commission and a local resident.

LOWMAN DENIES HE WILL RETIRE FROM OFFICE

Washington, June 29 (P).—Reports were circulated here today that Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, was about to retire from office, but both at the White House and at the treasury it was denied that Mr. Lowman had resigned or had been asked to resign. The assistant secretary said he had no present intention of leaving his post.

Pole Fell on Street

A Kingston Gas & Electric Corporation pole on West Strand fell across the roadway near Dwyer Brothers' store about noon today, impeding traffic at the point. Officer Fitzgerald was detailed to handle the situation until the road was cleared. The pole was rotten at the base.

Lawyer Killed in Auto Accident

Jamestown, N. Y., June 29 (P).—Grant E. Neil, prominent Jamestown lawyer, was killed last night when his automobile left the road between Cuba and Friendship and landed in a field. His chauffeur escaped injury.

Canadian Liquor Exports Decrease

Windsor, Ont., June 29 (P).—M. B. Jackson, assistant chief customs inspector who is making a survey of the liquor situation in the Great Lakes region, has announced that export of liquor from Detroit river docks in the last two weeks has not been sufficient to meet the overhead costs.

He said the rum runners were extending their fanks, however, to Amherstburg, at one end of the Detroit river and across Lake St. Clair at the other. But even the shipments from these points, he said, failed to bring the total up to the usual June standard.

He said four liquor boats cleared yesterday afternoon from Amherstburg, 22 others were loaded and ready for departure while 19 empty are a number of boats tied up, including eight seized by Jackson for failure to report to the customs upon their return to the Canadian shore. Unless these are claimed by their owners they will be confiscated and sold at auction.

Court Denies Writ to Capone

Philadelphia, June 29 (P).—The criminal division of the municipal court today dismissed the application for a writ of error seeking the release of Alphonse "Scarface" Al Capone, Chicago gang leader, now serving a year in the county prison for carrying a loaded pistol.

Judge John E. Walsh, who sentenced Capone and also heard the argument for the writ, refused to admit the Chicago gangster to bail pending an appeal on today's court action.

Motorcyclist Hurt in Upset

Carl Becher of New York city, while riding his motorcycle with sidecar attached, up Broadway, skidded on the car tracks near Stuyvesant street and was hurled from his machine this morning. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the Kingston Hospital. He had sustained several ugly cuts on the head but after having his wounds dressed at the hospital was able to leave. His machine was only slightly damaged.

Of $50,000,000 paid the state of Illinois in inheritance taxes since the war, $40,000,000 has come from Chicago.

Supper at Epworth Hall

The Epworth League of Clinton Avenue M. E. Church will hold a League of Nations cafeteria supper in Epworth Hall, Tuesday evening, July 2, at 5 o'clock. An excellent menu is being prepared and the public is invited.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, June 29 (State Department of Agriculture and Markets).—The tone of the market was stronger and trading active on lettuce of fine quality. Trucked in supplies from Orange county were moderate and wholesale business on crates of two dozen heads of the Big Boston variety was consumed as high as $2.50 and as low as 15 cents. Most sales, however, were made from $1.50-$2.00. The iceberg type lettuce of the same number of heads realized from $1.25-$2.00.

Although receipts of celery from Orange county were lighter, limited buying resulted in a further price cut on rough stock. Bunches ruled about steady. The best rough celery packed in two-thirds crates, peddled out at $5.00-$5.50. Bunched celery ranged from 50c-$1.50 a bunch of 12 stalks, according to size.

Hudson Valley red currants were in lighter receipts. The demand, however, was very light in a dull and weaker market. A large percentage of the offerings showed small size and were otherwise unattractive in quality and few sales exceeded 15 cents a quart basket on the best.

The demand for strawberries was considerably more active today and values therefore advanced in a firmer market. Supplies were moderate. Various kinds from Oswego county jobbed out principally from 20 to 35 cents a quart. In few instances strictly fancy reached 40 while some poorer worked out at 15. Hudson Valley shipments ranged from 10c-30c.

Prices on New York upstate green peas further strengthened in a slightly stronger market. Trading was quite active especially on fancy. Arrivals were moderate. Erie county peas in round bushel baskets sold at $2.75-$3.25 while Madison county offerings commanded from $2.50-$3.75. Green peas from the western states, packed in bushel hampers wholesaled at $2.50-$3.50.

Raspberries continued in short supply from the Hudson Valley. Fancy fruit sold promptly at higher prices. Pint baskets changed at 20 to 25 cents. Jersey shipments ranged from 10 to 18 cents. Some very poor, however, sold lower.

Remains of large size and fancy in quality met a better outlet and values in consequence hardened. Supplies were only moderate. Consignments from Orange county packed in lettuce crates brought from 75c-$1.25.

MUSTER MADE FIRST NEW ZEALAND MOOSE

Auckland, New Zealand, June 29 (P).—Red deer and fallow deer have long abounded in New Zealand. Now there are also several herds of moose. All these animals are importations.

The moose have been strictly preserved till this season when the first licenses to shoot a limited number were issued. The distinction of securing the first moose ever shot in New Zealand went to E. J. Herrick, who got the animal in virgin country at the head of Dusky Sound, on the west coast of Otago in the South Island.

Mr. Herrick said that their tracks showed that the moose, first imported in 1910, have spread over a large area. The animal he shot was old but the antlers measured four feet across and the head weighed 55 pounds. The meat, Mr. Herrick's party reported, was delicious.

Only the one moose seems to have been shot in this initial season, the country in which the herds are roaming being very wild, almost inaccessible, and uninhabited.

Lake Nemi Yielding Old Roman Galleries
Rome—Rare treasures of ancient Rome, gathered by the gay emperor, Salapina, of nineteen centuries ago as a setting for summer night pastimes, will be revealed about the end of June, if present expectations of engineers draining Lake Nemi materialize.
The slow, steady flow of the waters from the lake had revealed almost forty feet of one of the two galleries. The gallery will be raised on supports and taken on runners to ground-level in order to give archaeologists and the art lovers easy access to it. Eventually, it both galleries will be set up on concrete bases beside Lake Nemi in a kind of museum.

Honey Found Lacking in Vitamine Content
London.—Honey is a popular and valuable food for the nursery but cannot be regarded as a satisfactory source of vitamins. Tests carried out on a fresh sample of English honey from the comb and on West Indian honey showed that both samples were deficient in vitamins A, B, C and D. This work was carried out by Dr. Edward Boyle at the latter institute. London. Doctor Boyle also found that the deficiency of vitamins in honey is not due to deterioration caused by storage.

The Dutch East Indies have an important market for American automobiles, 8,329 having been shipped there in 1928.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 29 (A).—The stock market coasted along today on the wave of bullish enthusiasm created this week by definite indications of a relaxation in credit conditions. There were a few soft spots here and there, but prices generally moved upward with the public utility, merchandising, chemical and investment railroad shares all presenting numerous points of strength.
Operators for the advance resumed their activities with confidence in the belief that the worst of the tight money period was over. While admitting the possibility of an upward surge in the call rate before the middle of next month, they state that any increase is likely to be temporary and that the ruling rate will be 7 or lower before the end of the month.
Investment railroad shares were in brisk demand on the theory that those issues had not fully discounted the sharp expansion in earnings in the first half of the year and the beneficial effects of the St. Louis and O'Fallon decision, setting aside interstate commerce commission basis of valuation. Atchafalpa, Chesapeake and Ohio, Chesapeake Corporation and Pere Marquette all advanced 2 to 3 1/2 points to new records.
A widespread belief that two or three additional large public utility mergers are in the making helped to maintain interest in the power and light stocks. American Water Works, Columbia Gas and Electric, Detroit Edison, American Power and Light and several others advanced 2 or more points. Telephone issues also resumed their advance. International Telephone crossing 101 to a new high for the present issue while American Telephone was marked up 4 1/2 points.
R. H. Macy soared 13 points to a new high at 217. Abraham and Straus ran up 8 points and Woolworth (old stock) 5. Newport Corp. ran up 5 points to a new high at 75.
Mexican Seaboard, which has just opened up a new field in California, was again in brisk demand, moving up 3 points above yesterday's close.
The closing was strong. Sales approximated 1,500,000 shares.

Palace of Hospitality to House Rome Guests
Rome—A "Palace of Hospitality" to be used for parties of provincial students, workmen or agriculturists visiting Rome as guests of the city, is being fitted out and furnished by order of the governor.
The "Palace of Hospitality" will consist of two or three floors of a building, already used for certain municipal services and is close to the Tiber, near the Temple of Vesta.
Hitler, when numerous commissions, delegates and parties of students and others have come to Rome on the invitation of the city have been accommodated in schools, with consequent upsetting of the scholars' work.
The "Palace of Hospitality" will be fitted out like a hotel, with regular kitchens, restaurant, baths, and writing and reading rooms.
A part of it will always be kept open, but the complete service of dormitories, restaurants, baths and recreation rooms will only be available on such occasions as may necessitate the accommodation of several hundreds of persons.

Close School Because It Has One Pupil
Poole, Dorset.—Little Dorothy Bat-trick, ten, was the only pupil so they have closed her school.
Dorothy is the only child of school age on Browes Island in Poole harbor. The Dorset county council recently voted to close the school because one pupil was not enough.
The nearest school for Dorothy is five miles away and she would have to cross the channel each day to get to it. Both her sisters and her brother were educated at the island school.

Parachute Fall
How far a parachute jumper can allow himself to fall before opening his parachute has never been determined. An army air corps sergeant, to demonstrate that people do not lose consciousness in falling, dropped 1,300 feet before pulling his rip cord.

3 Killed, 3 Hurt In Auto Smashup

Shoham, June 29.—W. R. Joyce and family returned to the city last week after a brief sojourn at their summer home on the north boulevard.
Mrs. Arthur Vandenberg of Yorkers spent a few days last week at the summer home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Garter. Mrs. Vandenberg was formerly Miss Frances Garter.
James Haines left last Wednesday for his home in Newark, N. J., after a week's stay at the Kirm farm house on the lights.
An Olive wedding, eighty-one years ago, was that which joined the families of William Eckert and Elizabeth Davis. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Samuel Harlow, an early pastor of the Reformed Church of Shoham.
Miss Madeleine Quinn of Brooklyn is the guest of Mrs. Michael Allen at her home in the village.
Lawyer Charles De La Vergne of Kingston and family were visitors in Shoham recently.
The Hestock family of Philadelphia have arrived at their summer home on the old Henry Coons place. A rather novel and interesting way of spending the glorious Fourth was that chosen by William and Henry Hestock, H. Coons and John Hasbrouck, who thirty-seven years ago climbed to the top of Tye-tie-Nick mountain and there, looking down upon all Ulster county and a large portion of the Hudson valley, played on the fife and drum to their hearts' content. The young men were members of the renowned Sheepskin Band, a musical aggregation which held forth in these parts many years ago. Of this patriotically inclined party, only Mr. Hasbrouck, who makes his home in Kingston now, is still living.
Some of the men employed on the road job have been laid off temporarily, pending the setting of the concrete on the strip which has been completed for the entire stretch under construction. Much favorable comment is heard apropos of the road which the operations have been carried on. Doubtless the road would now be open for traffic had it not been for the long spell of rainy weather early in the spring.
Clyde Winchell took part in the big Knights Templar parade in Albany last week, as a member of the Kingston American Legion Drum Corps.
James Lutz of the Breuchaud farm was a pleasant caller in the village one day last week.
Mr. and Mrs. George Bryant have returned to their home in Newark after spending a few days here. During their vacation the Bryants bought a large and well equipped farm near Oneonta.

For the past two weeks the entrance to the Ridge Road at Hogsback has been blocked to traffic, no crossing over the concrete having been laid there by the contractors. No one seems to know just why this inconvenience to Ashokan Heights residents was allowed to continue.
The copious rains of last week put new life into the hay crop in this section. Not that it makes any great difference, economically, as less and less hay is put in as the years go by, and fewer head of cattle are kept. The wealthy city folk who are buying up the acreage around here do not go in very heavily for cattle raising, and not many horses are kept on the farms. Some farmers have plenty of hay left in their barns from last year's crops. A number cut only their best pieces of grass, pasturing the rest or letting it go to seed. On the Thankful Elmendorf place, one of the largest farms in the town, for instance, the hay was not cut at all last season, perhaps for the first time in a century. Of course this is an abandoned farm, still there has heretofore always been some one who wanted the grass.
The automobile accident case scheduled to have been tried before Judge D. L. Windrum last Tuesday morning was called off. It is now reported that a settlement in the matter will probably be made out of court.

Local Death Record
Henry Hasbrouck died at his home in New Paltz on Friday. Funeral services from the Methodist Church at New Paltz on Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.
Ida Wolven, wife of Karl Ficker, died this morning at her home, 22 East St. James street. She was a faithful member of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church and of the Ladies' Aid Society. Besides her husband, she is survived by her sister, Mrs. William Kirkpatrick, of this city. Funeral from the late residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in Wiltwyck cemetery.

French and American Cities Closely Linked
An American city was officially represented at the impressive ceremonies held in Orleans, France, in celebration of the five hundredth anniversary of the raising of the siege of Orleans by Joan of Arc.
The city is that which the French colonists of Louisiana founded in 1718 and christened La Nouvelle Orleans.
The two cities of Orleans, old and new, have long maintained friendly relations. On the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of New Orleans her sister in France took part in impressive ceremonies, and in the following year received from New Orleans a bronze medal and later the embroidered silk flag of the city. The flag now hangs in the Hotel de Ville at Orleans. On anniversaries of the battle of New Orleans, old Orleans takes the flag out and flies it from the rooftop.

Small Church, Big Organ
Mr. Carnegie's first gift of an organ to a church was made to the little Swedenborgian church in Allegheny (Pa.) of which his mother was a member and which he attended as a boy. When it was installed, the pipes were so tall it was a current joke that the organ that Mr. Carnegie had given was so big that it had blown the roof off.

SHOHAM.
Shoham, June 29.—W. R. Joyce and family returned to the city last week after a brief sojourn at their summer home on the north boulevard.
Mrs. Arthur Vandenberg of Yorkers spent a few days last week at the summer home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Garter. Mrs. Vandenberg was formerly Miss Frances Garter.
James Haines left last Wednesday for his home in Newark, N. J., after a week's stay at the Kirm farm house on the lights.
An Olive wedding, eighty-one years ago, was that which joined the families of William Eckert and Elizabeth Davis. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Samuel Harlow, an early pastor of the Reformed Church of Shoham.
Miss Madeleine Quinn of Brooklyn is the guest of Mrs. Michael Allen at her home in the village.
Lawyer Charles De La Vergne of Kingston and family were visitors in Shoham recently.
The Hestock family of Philadelphia have arrived at their summer home on the old Henry Coons place. A rather novel and interesting way of spending the glorious Fourth was that chosen by William and Henry Hestock, H. Coons and John Hasbrouck, who thirty-seven years ago climbed to the top of Tye-tie-Nick mountain and there, looking down upon all Ulster county and a large portion of the Hudson valley, played on the fife and drum to their hearts' content. The young men were members of the renowned Sheepskin Band, a musical aggregation which held forth in these parts many years ago. Of this patriotically inclined party, only Mr. Hasbrouck, who makes his home in Kingston now, is still living.
Some of the men employed on the road job have been laid off temporarily, pending the setting of the concrete on the strip which has been completed for the entire stretch under construction. Much favorable comment is heard apropos of the road which the operations have been carried on. Doubtless the road would now be open for traffic had it not been for the long spell of rainy weather early in the spring.
Clyde Winchell took part in the big Knights Templar parade in Albany last week, as a member of the Kingston American Legion Drum Corps.
James Lutz of the Breuchaud farm was a pleasant caller in the village one day last week.
Mr. and Mrs. George Bryant have returned to their home in Newark after spending a few days here. During their vacation the Bryants bought a large and well equipped farm near Oneonta.

For the past two weeks the entrance to the Ridge Road at Hogsback has been blocked to traffic, no crossing over the concrete having been laid there by the contractors. No one seems to know just why this inconvenience to Ashokan Heights residents was allowed to continue.
The copious rains of last week put new life into the hay crop in this section. Not that it makes any great difference, economically, as less and less hay is put in as the years go by, and fewer head of cattle are kept. The wealthy city folk who are buying up the acreage around here do not go in very heavily for cattle raising, and not many horses are kept on the farms. Some farmers have plenty of hay left in their barns from last year's crops. A number cut only their best pieces of grass, pasturing the rest or letting it go to seed. On the Thankful Elmendorf place, one of the largest farms in the town, for instance, the hay was not cut at all last season, perhaps for the first time in a century. Of course this is an abandoned farm, still there has heretofore always been some one who wanted the grass.
The automobile accident case scheduled to have been tried before Judge D. L. Windrum last Tuesday morning was called off. It is now reported that a settlement in the matter will probably be made out of court.

Palace of Hospitality to House Rome Guests
Rome—A "Palace of Hospitality" to be used for parties of provincial students, workmen or agriculturists visiting Rome as guests of the city, is being fitted out and furnished by order of the governor.
The "Palace of Hospitality" will consist of two or three floors of a building, already used for certain municipal services and is close to the Tiber, near the Temple of Vesta.
Hitler, when numerous commissions, delegates and parties of students and others have come to Rome on the invitation of the city have been accommodated in schools, with consequent upsetting of the scholars' work.
The "Palace of Hospitality" will be fitted out like a hotel, with regular kitchens, restaurant, baths, and writing and reading rooms.
A part of it will always be kept open, but the complete service of dormitories, restaurants, baths and recreation rooms will only be available on such occasions as may necessitate the accommodation of several hundreds of persons.

Close School Because It Has One Pupil
Poole, Dorset.—Little Dorothy Bat-trick, ten, was the only pupil so they have closed her school.
Dorothy is the only child of school age on Browes Island in Poole harbor. The Dorset county council recently voted to close the school because one pupil was not enough.
The nearest school for Dorothy is five miles away and she would have to cross the channel each day to get to it. Both her sisters and her brother were educated at the island school.

Parachute Fall
How far a parachute jumper can allow himself to fall before opening his parachute has never been determined. An army air corps sergeant, to demonstrate that people do not lose consciousness in falling, dropped 1,300 feet before pulling his rip cord.

Local Death Record

Henry Hasbrouck died at his home in New Paltz on Friday. Funeral services from the Methodist Church at New Paltz on Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.
Ida Wolven, wife of Karl Ficker, died this morning at her home, 22 East St. James street. She was a faithful member of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church and of the Ladies' Aid Society. Besides her husband, she is survived by her sister, Mrs. William Kirkpatrick, of this city. Funeral from the late residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in Wiltwyck cemetery.

French and American Cities Closely Linked
An American city was officially represented at the impressive ceremonies held in Orleans, France, in celebration of the five hundredth anniversary of the raising of the siege of Orleans by Joan of Arc.
The city is that which the French colonists of Louisiana founded in 1718 and christened La Nouvelle Orleans.
The two cities of Orleans, old and new, have long maintained friendly relations. On the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of New Orleans her sister in France took part in impressive ceremonies, and in the following year received from New Orleans a bronze medal and later the embroidered silk flag of the city. The flag now hangs in the Hotel de Ville at Orleans. On anniversaries of the battle of New Orleans, old Orleans takes the flag out and flies it from the rooftop.

Society Notes
Hines-Nick.
Stephen Hines, Jr., and Mrs. Della Nick of Maiden were married at Reesville, N. Y., on June 21.
Drew-Millsbaugh.
Miss Edna Millsbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Millsbaugh of Ellenville, and Arthur Drew, son of Mrs. Edward Francis Drew of Glens Falls, were married on June 22 at the Methodist parsonage in Ellenville by the Rev. George Wright.
Shelley-McDowell.
Miss Adele McDowell, daughter of Mrs. Susan McDowell of Ellenville, and George Shelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elsha Shelley of Euroka, were married on June 25 at the home of the bride by the Rev. George E. Wright. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Joanne McDowell, and Miss Arvilla Davis, as bridesmaids. The groom was attended by Clark Shelley and Walter Saring. They will reside in Ellenville after a wedding trip.

Small Church, Big Organ
Mr. Carnegie's first gift of an organ to a church was made to the little Swedenborgian church in Allegheny (Pa.) of which his mother was a member and which he attended as a boy. When it was installed, the pipes were so tall it was a current joke that the organ that Mr. Carnegie had given was so big that it had blown the roof off.

Sidders Loses on Foul to Kelly in Main Armory Bout

King Knocked Out by Johnny Cuccio in Fourth Round of Semi-Final Bout and Buckman Have Opponents—Card for Friday, July 5.

A foul blow at the outset of the third round gave Spider Kelly the verdict over George Sidders in the feature attraction at the armory Friday night. The fight was a big disappointment to the crowd, who expected the fracas to be a real hot session. The bout started in a quiet fashion and was going like a walk until the fourth round, when Sidders apparently had the better of the argument.

The boys will continue their ring war for supremacy next Friday, because Matchmaker Jimmy Ambrose, who knows that local fans would like to see the Spider and Sidders slug it out over the 10-round route, has booked the two for the feature attraction.

In last night's semi-final Roy King, fighting a far different brand than he did against Charlie Wiggins of West Point a week ago, kissed the canvas from a hard right under the heart, landed by Johnny Cuccio, a battling job from Brooklyn, who substituted for Young Melanski. Cuccio was too wise a ringman to expose himself to the heavy swings of King as did Wiggins. Instead he kept close and pummeled with short ones that hurt. King succumbed to a stiff right in the fourth round.

Duwig Scores Knockout.

Frenchy Duwig of West Point in the second frame of their scheduled four-rounder. Frenchy did the trick with a hard right to the jaw before the sound of the timer's bell had died out. Myers went down as the first round was about to close and was saved by the bell. He was in no condition to start the second.

Charlie Fisher of this city and Albert Lamont of New York went four rounds, the latter getting the decision in the fight that went on instead of the Brown-Johnson fight. Kid Buckman of Kingston kept up his knockout reputation by disposing of "Fighting" Joe Myers in the fourth round of their set-to. The session opened the show in a peppy fashion, Myers fighting the best that he ever did in the local drill shed, although he succumbed to Buckman's crushers. Myers took the first round; lost the second to the Kid, who scored three knockdowns in the frame; dropped the third to Buckman, who had him out, but the bell saved him; and made a strong bid in the fourth until he stopped the one that put him away. Myers knocked Buckman off his feet in the session.

Card for Next Friday.

The card for Friday, July 5, will contain 34 rounds instead of the usual 32, the armory officials wishing to make good for the one four-rounder that was dispensed with last night. Jimmy Ambrose, matchmaker, has scheduled the following:

Feature, 10 Rounds.

George Sidders vs. Spider Kelly.

Semi-Final, Six Rounds.

Johnny Blaine, Kingston, vs. Eddie Ziegler, New York.

Six Rounds.

Frenchy Duwig, local, vs. Buster Collins, New York.

Four Rounders.

Charlie Garrison, Kingston, vs. Sergeant Jimmy Gorman of New York.

Kid Buckman, Kingston, vs. Young Russo, New York.

Roy Van Buren, local, vs. Joe Grosso of Newburgh.

Hollywood, Cal.—Deverett Strong, Omaha, won on a foul from Bert Whitler, Cal. (1).

Wet Ground Halts Industrial Game

Wet grounds caused a postponement of the Industrial League game scheduled for the Postoffice-Apollo and the K. & M. Schillings Friday. On Monday evening at the Athletic Field the Hercules meet the Manhattan. Ken Best and Houghtaling will form the battery for the powdermen; Straley and Stauble for the Manhattan.

Sunday Schedule Of Local Nines

If weather permits local baseball teams will play Sunday as follows:

Colonials vs. Schenectady Police at Fair Grounds, 2 p. m.

Pan-Am vs. Roosevelt A. C. of Newburgh at Pan-Am Park.

Roundout A. C. vs. Bushwicks at Saugerties.

Hercules vs. Keady Kids at Hambrueck Park.

Red Sox vs. Gardner at Gardiner.

Wilbur vs. Eddyville at Greenkill Park.

Elmer All-Stars Win.

Friday evening at Hambrueck Park the Elmer All-Stars defeated the Apollo winners by the score of 10 to 4, the game lasting eight innings.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By William J. Chipman, Associated Press Sports Writer)

A large section of the Delaware river, cast into Shibe Park at an opportune moment yesterday, caused a let-up in the persecution of the Yankees by the Athletics. With 20,000 Philadelphians yelling for more of the blood of Huggins, the second game of the series was put over until August 7 when a double-header will be played.

Eastern teams in the National League also suffered from the rain yesterday. Unwilling to permit such same playmates as the Phillies to escape unscathed, the Giants immediately arranged a double-header for this afternoon, which makes four games with the Phils in two days as a double-header already was carded for Sunday. The Robins also will double with the Braves on Sunday.

John J. McGraw climbed into third place through remaining inactive yesterday as the Cubs obligingly defeated the Cardinals who previously were tied with the New Yorkers. The Cubs themselves rode to the crest on their 9 to 5 triumph as Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh by 10 to 3 in the third game of the series. This combination of events gave the Bruins a virtual tie in games with the Pirates, but the McCarthy entry led because of fewer defeats.

The Chicago team displayed some of its early-season hitting to lay Jess Haines low in less than two rounds. The home run treatment turned the trick. Both Rogers Hornsby and Hack Wilson smote for the circuit in the second inning when seven runs were scored, but the crowning insult was offered Haines when his pitching rival, Pat Malone, knocked one over the fence with two Cubs on base.

The collapse of Irvin Brame in the fifth inning at Forbes Field allowed the Reds to score five runs and gain a lead which they never relinquished. Red Lucas had the home boys white-washed until the eighth when Paul Waner and Pie Traynor connected for successive home runs after one man had been passed. Lucas gave the Buccaneers eleven hits, but the Reds picked up fifteen off Brame, Petty and French.

The Senators and the Red Sox offered the only attraction in the eastern half of the American League, the Bostonians winning by 5 to 2, but all of the western clubs took the field. Alvin Crowder pitched the Browns to a 7 to 2 breeze over the White Sox in Chicago, and Cleveland shaded George Uble and the Tigers by 5 to 4 at Detroit.

Crowder was particularly impressive, holding Lena Blackburne's team to just five hits. The victory increased the Browns' margin over the third-place Yankees to one and one-half games and decreased their deficit under the leading Macks to ten contests.

Heinie Manush collected three of the thirteen St. Louis hits, and so became the first American League batsman to reach a total of 100 safe drives.

George Uble, who has found the going rough since he broke his string of nine straight victories, lost a close battle to John Mihus at Navin Field because the Tigers erred behind him. The Tigers out-hit the Indians by 15 to 9. The defeat was Uble's fourth of the season against ten victories.

Wilbur vs. Eddyville.

The Wilbur baseball team will play the Eddyville Fire Department Sunday afternoon at Greenkill field. The game is called for 3:15 o'clock. George Schick, old-time moundman, and Winters will form the Wilbur battery. Eddyville, Smith and Barton.

Immigration Restriction

Until 1923 no law was passed in connection with the immigration. An act was adopted, though applying to all persons, but in reality a law regarding immigration, because then nearly all passengers were immigrants.

TRADES IN MAJOR LEAGUES PLEASE

Rogers Hornsby Just What Chicago Cubs Wanted.

Wholesale trading of big league ivory last winter was not entirely a wasted effort. It usually happens that one club in a deal always gets the short end, and occasionally developments prove that neither club profited by getting itself involved in a transaction, but the season so far indicates that, barring one or two cases, there is satisfaction all around.

Undoubtedly the outstanding swap, so far as results go, was the one that packed Rogers Hornsby's bag and sent him from Boston to the Cubs in exchange for a small army of talent. Hornsby has done and will continue to do just what the Cubs needed most—hit the ball—and the men sent to Boston have been instrumental in creating such an unusual sight as the Braves occupying first place in the National league, writes Irving Vaughan, in the Chicago Tribune.

The Braves obtained among others Freddy Maguire, who is playing a fort-like game at second base, and it may not be long before John McGraw, the worst trader in the business, will make an effort to bring him back to the Giants who are suffering for the want of a man at that particular post.

The Braves also took "Socks" Seibold, a veteran right-hander, who had been taken in last fall by the Cubs after he had put in a big year on the Reading farm. The first thing Seibold did after the barrier went up, was to whip the Giants, and he probably will whip a few other teams before the race has run its course.

Still another in the swap was old Percy Jones, and he too copped a decision at the outset. Besides they got in Bruce Cunningham, a pitcher who looked so good in training camp that Assistant Manager John Evers proclaimed him a prize. And Leggett, a young backstop, also is expected to grow up into something of value. Thus the Braves are better fixed without Hornsby than they were with him, and yet the Cubs haven't missed what they gave away.

The Cleveland Indians have no reason to regret giving George Uble to Detroit for Tavenner and Holloway. Tavenner has tightened up the Indian infield so far as defense is concerned, although he isn't hitting and probably won't. Holloway will win a few games before he finishes the season. On the other hand, Uble has been Detroit's most consistent winner.

Sport Notes

Leo Lomski claims to have made $250,000 fighting in the past two and a half years.

The University of Southern California Trojans will participate in eight track meets this year.

Purdue has signed as wrestling coach Leslie Beers, 15-pound champion of nearly every competition for three years.

The name of Arthur Buelow, one of Max Schmeling's many managers, has been stricken from the roll of members of the German Boxing Union.

Richard Martin, Winnetka, Ill., who played number one on the University of Illinois golf team this season, has been elected captain for next year.

Although he has averaged five games a day for more than 20 years, Jimmy Smith, famous bowler, has never been troubled with lacerated skin on his fingers.

The King's Plate, held for 70 consecutive years at the Woodbine race track in Ontario, is the oldest turf fixture run continuously on the North American continent.

To attract support from the gallery a betting machine is now operated at professional golf tournaments in England. Tickets are sold by the traveling part-mutuel machine at 2 shillings 6 pence.

Health Hint

Infants should be weighed every week during the first six months and every other week during the second six months of life. Keeping track of the weight during the second year is also important, but once a month is sufficient.

Colonials Will Play Schenectady Cops Here Sunday

Freddie Wetmore will send his Colonials, representing Kingston, against the Schenectady Police Sunday at the Kingston Fair Grounds. Unless the attendance is much larger than that of the past several games the Poughkeepsie mayor likely will abandon the idea of promoting semi-pro ball in this city. The starting time is 2 o'clock.

The cops are being imported for Sunday's game because they always put up a pleasing brand of ball. They have the Colonials a hard go at the Fair Grounds several weeks ago, losing out to the local representatives 4-3 in the ninth inning. The game was a hot contest from start to finish and the brand of ball played by both clubs was of a calibre equal to that of big-time circuits.

Sunday's game promises to be every bit as interesting as the first tilt between the Colonials and Schenectady Police. The latter team is very anxious to even matters with the Kingston team, so Wetmore's boys will have to fight even harder than they did against the cops several weeks ago. Culliton or Makowski will toss them over for the Colonials with Cashman as the backstop. Smith and Varro will make up the battery for the cops.

Schalk Has Seen Host of No-Hit Ball Games

In respect to no-hit games, Ray Schalk probably holds a record. Many ball players put in years of playing in the majors without seeing one of these classics. Ray has caught five of them and seen two others from the dugout.

He was behind the plate when nine innings of hitless ball were pitched by Red Ewell, Jim Scott, Joe Benz, Eddie C. Otte and Charlie Robinson. He saw Ted Lyons turn the Red Sox back without a hit in 1923, and recently, as acting manager of the Giants in the absence of John McGraw, he saw Carl Hubbell stand the Pirates off without a hit.

Scott, Ray recalled, did not allow a hit for nine innings, but was beaten 1 to 0 in the tenth, while Robertson's was a perfect game, in which no enemy hitter reached first base.

John Evers Is Reminded of Cubs-Giants Fight

Johnny Evers was one of the heroes of the days when the Cubs and Giants were bitter rivals of the diamond, and he sees another chapter in the old fight this season in the National league pennant race. Says Johnny:

"It will be like old times to see the Cubs and Giants battling each other in the final stages of the race. I'd like to see a jam like the one we went through in 1908. That was a season I'll never forget. The game was rougher then. The players were tougher. The ball was dead. I often wonder what some of the hard hitters of those days would do to the present ball."

New Job for Wieman

Eton E. "Tad" Wieman, recently deposed head football coach at Michigan, has been appointed director, supervisor, and adviser of the four-year physical education course. The announcement was made on recommendation of Director Fielding H. Yost.

O'Farrell Is in Form as Backstop for Giants

When the Cardinals won the National league pennant in 1926 Rogers Hornsby declared that a major portion of credit for that feat was due Bob O'Farrell for his skillful handling of the pitchers and his timely hitting. It may come to pass this year that O'Farrell's work will give the Giants just the edge they need to win the flag for after an off year in 1928, Bob is coming back amazingly. He is dividing the catching equally with Frank Moran and is pumping the ball in the pitcher's arms. Just as he did when he was with the Cardinals, and before that when he played with the Cubs.

Negroes in British Empire

There are some negroes in England, but the number there is extremely small. The British empire has within its boundaries lands whose populations consist largely of negroes, as, for instance, Jamaica and Central and South Africa. The natives of such countries are British.

Average in National League

New York, June 25 (AP)—Babe Herman, the Brooklyn battering ram, pushed his way to the top of the standing in the National League batting race in the week ended Wednesday, according to averages made public today. Herman owns a mark of .382 for 58 games, two points above Frank O'Doul, the Philadelphia outfielder, who showed the way for many weeks.

A good share of the laurel wreath rests with Melvin Ott of the Giants. The Louisiana boy leads in runs scored with 54, in home runs with 21, and in runs batted in with 77. Bill Terry of New York heads the list in hits with 99, while Chick Hafey of St. Louis shows the way in doubles with 21. Lloyd Waner leads with 11 triples. Kiki Cuyler of Chicago holds base stealing honors with 26.

Other leading regulars, following the two top men, are: Terry, New York, .371; Roush, New York, .364; Frisch, St. Louis, .362; Stephenson, Chicago, .356; Hafey, St. Louis, .354; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .349; Ott, New York, .348, and Cuyler, Chicago, .347.

Burleigh Grimes, with 11 victories and 1 defeat for .917, still leads the pitchers in games won and lost. The big spitballer's 129 innings of work also qualifies him for the top. Guy Bush of Chicago is second in winning, with 7 and 1 for .875, and Johnny Morrison, the rejuvenated curve ball shark, is the nominal league leader with four victories and no defeats, but cannot yet be classed as a regular.

Three clubs are at or above .300 in team batting. Philadelphia leads with .310; New York is next with .300, and Pittsburgh is third with .290 even. The Cubs lead in fielding with .975, two points more than the Giants can show.

Rondout Juniors Claim Win

The Rondout A. C. Juniors are much disturbed because the Irish Block nine of Wilbur claims a 15-14 victory in the game played Thursday at Block Park. The Rondout Juniors are of the opinion that the contest was a victory for them because Dittus and Schatzel crossed the plate while the Irish Blockers halted the game of their own accord to dispute a decision of the umpire. A 16-15 win is claimed by the Rondout Juniors.

Foxx Leads With .405 Mark

Chicago, June 25 (AP)—The pitching offered by the Yankees and Red Sox during the last week looked just like any other pitching to Jimmy Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics, and he continued to set the American League standard with a mark of .405, unofficial averages, including games of Wednesday, reveal.

Connie Mack's first baseman added nine points to his average to bounce back into the .400 class, and to go ahead of Bob Fothergill, Tiger outfielder, who slipped from .406 to .393. Foxx has topped the batsmen playing regularly in his circuit for the last five weeks. Among the other reasons why the Athletics were at the top of the heap were Al Simmons, Micky Cochrane and Bing Miller, all batting in the first 10.

The leaders besides Foxx and Fothergill were: Simmons, Philadelphia, .380; Lazzeri, New York, .374; Manush, St. Louis, .372; Cochrane, Philadelphia, .371; Fonseca, Cleveland, .358; Miller, Philadelphia, .354; Combs, New York, .354; Geringer, Detroit, .352.

As a team the Athletics lost three points in batting but remained out in front with an average of .316. Detroit stuck in second place with .301. The Athletics had collected 424 runs during the season, while restricting opponents to 239.

Bob Grove southpawed himself to another pair of victories during the week and raised his mark to 15 wins and 1 defeat. Behind him were George Uble, Detroit; Vic Sorrell, Detroit, and Rube Walberg, Athletics, who each had records of 10 triumphs and 3 setbacks. Although not able to work in turn Eddie Rommel, another of Connie Mack's hurlers, had collected six victories without suffering defeat. Grove was far out in front in strikeouts with 83.

The House of Mack also was on top in team fielding, although forced to share first place with the Yankees, with a mark of .976. Cleveland, ranking as the poorest fielding team in the circuit, continued to show the way in double plays, having performed the double ceremony 73 times.

THREE OTHER AMERICAN EMBASSIES ARE DRY

London, June 23 (AP).—The American embassy at London, made "dry" by a recent decision of Ambassador Davies, is not the only "dry" American territory in Europe.

The embassies at Berlin, Copenhagen, and Oslo also have the status. In the other European capitals, guests at official dinners are indulged in the usual wine courses.

ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR

sets new standard of

DURABILITY EFFICIENCY POPULARITY

An all-steel cabinet that cannot warp. A mechanism that is hermetically sealed, dust-proof and self-oiling. No wonder the General Electric Refrigerator has set new standards! It actually operates more quickly—it uses less current, it provides for maximum food storage.

And—important to busy housewives, it operates automatically, regulating itself so that the temperature is always within the safety zone—several degrees below 50.

These new all-steel models are remarkably low in price, beginning at $215 at the factory. They are as durable as a safe and cannot warp. They keep cold from creeping out and heat from creeping in.

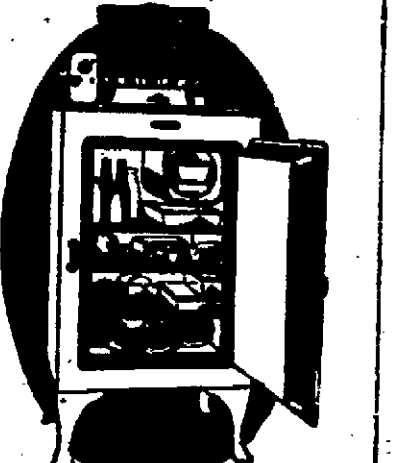

Visit our display rooms and see the new all-steel model and how low our price may be bought with conveniently spaced down payments.

There are now over 250,000 owners of General Electric refrigerators. Not one of them has ever spent a dollar for refrigerator repairs or service. That was our guarantee to them.
